

We have exciting news to share with members of Leading Edge Credit Union and Eagle River Credit Union! Following the successful vote to merge the organizations in June, we began a robust recruitment process and naming strategy led by third parties. We are happy to announce the name for the new merged credit union as well as two key leadership positions.

On January 1, 2022, Eagle River Credit Union and Leading Edge Credit Union will officially merge under the new name Atlantic Edge Credit Union. On behalf of both Boards of Directors, thank you to the staff and members who participated in our naming process by providing feedback and suggestions.

We are pleased to announce that Cory Munden, currently Chief Executive Officer (CEO) at Leading Edge Credit Union, will lead Atlantic Edge Credit Union as the new CEO effective January 1, 2022.

We are equally pleased to announce that Shanti Samaroo, CEO of Eagle River Credit Union will join the new organization as Chief Financial Officer (CFO), effective January 1, 2022.

As a valued member, you can be confident that the new Atlantic Edge Credit Union will be guided by the exceptional leadership of these two individuals. Both Cory and Shanti have significant experience in the financial services industry and are passionate in their commitment to the credit union and co-operative values. This means decisions will be based on the best interests of the collective membership, the credit union, and communities they serve. Cory and Shanti are excited for the future of the new organization and the additional value it will bring for members, employees, and the communities it serves across Newfoundland and Labrador.

Please join us in congratulating Cory and Shanti!
Co-operatively,
